

U. S. PLANES HELP REEDS STORM INTO LWOV

The War
Today...By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

HITLER'S DECREE for total mobilization throughout the reich and occupied territories contemplates a regimentation of the individual such as perhaps no despot of history, even in the dark ages, ever attempted.

He's after the blood in the turnip. He proposes to halt all human endeavor excepting that which is directed towards total war.

Every person who is capable of work will be assigned a task to this end. No class can escape. Even the government services are to be combed ruthlessly to secure further common fodder and war workers.

The meaning of this amazing reorganization is that Hitler apparently is determined to fight a finish. He's going to make the Allies dig him out of his hole like the rat he is.

In order to secure efficiency the Nazi dictator has streamlined his government and put the task in the hands of just a few. Three men hold the chief positions under his supreme command.

Hitler's deputy, Reich Marshal Goering, is to adapt the whole of public life to the requirements of total war. Propaganda Minister Goebbels is entrusted with the task of smoking out every ounce of war energy, no matter where he may find it. The murderous Gestapo chief, "Hangman" Himmler, is to enforce orders through his big army of fanatical Nazi SS troops.

And this means that any disobedience or opposition will be punished by death.

How long Hitler will be able to make such regimentation stick remains to be seen, but it looks like a formidable set-up. He may be able to keep the reich, and to a considerable degree the occupied countries, in hand for the time being.

However, as this column remarked the other day, we are mainly concerned with the fighting fronts rather than with the German home front. Our way to lasting peace certainly lies in the smashing of the enemy war machine on the battle field.

There can be small doubt that Hitler's extension of his already tyrannical power means blood on the moon for the reich and the occupied countries. Reports indicate that Himmler is cutting a crimson swath in his purge of all who even have a friendly nod to the retreating Prussian militarists.

The signs are that the purge may be directed against all opposition to the Nazi regime—and there are many Germans who never have approved of Hitler. This is the opportunity for him to do a housecleaning, and he could have selected no more willing agent than Himmler who seems to take a sadistic delight in murder.

Of course, it's always possible that this handful of brigands who now control the reich may fall to fighting among themselves. There have been reports, for instance, that Himmler had an eye on Hitler's job. However, there's no indication thus far that the fuerer isn't still the big boss of the outfit.

BRICKER SEES AID
OF BORDER STATESGovernor Conferring With
Dewey Says Missouri
Will Go Republican

ALBANY, N. Y., July 26—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio predicted at a press conference today that the Republicans would cut deep into the border states in November and carry Missouri, despite the Democrats' nomination of Senator Harry Truman of that state as a vice-presidential candidate.

Here for conference with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, GOP presidential nominee, Bricker said he was confident the Republicans would win in November.

"Despite the nomination of Senator Truman, I think that Missouri will be solidly Republican," he said.

"I think our chances are very good in the border states," Bricker declared. "We should put up a good battle in Oklahoma, Kentucky, West Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland."

Bricker, who was accompanied by Mrs. Bricker, arrived by train at 11 a. m. from Columbus and went immediately to the executive mansion, where Gov. and Mrs. Dewey greeted them in the first meeting of the two couples since the Republican convention in Chicago last month.

Bricker told reporters he hoped to conduct a vigorous campaign similar to that which he waged for the presidential nomination before the convention met. He added, however, that "my plans are in the hands of the national organization."

NAZI BIG FOUR
SEEK TO BUILD
NEW RESERVESAll Manpower In German-Controlled Europe To Be Mobilized

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, July 26.—Adolf Hitler, having in effect placed the reich and occupied territories under an arch Nazi "Big Four," was believed today to be preparing a general mobilization of all manpower in that part of Europe under German control for a last ditch defense of Nazism.

A German news agency dispatch reaching Madrid quoted a German foreign office spokesman as saying Germany herself was going to create new and important military reserves and that other countries "allied" with Germany would not be far behind in this program despite the cost.

Propaganda Chief Paul Goebbels, newly named by Hitler as reich commissar for total mobilization for war, will address the German nation by radio at 8:15 p. m. today, Berlin has announced. He may disclose some of the plans which the Nazi chieftains have drafted for Germany's last fanatical struggle, and appeal for loyalty to Hitler. His speech is expected to last about 45 minutes.

Goering Becomes Dictator
In his new post Goebbels has become executor to Reichsmarshal Hermann Kuehnrich Goering, who was appointed by Hitler last night as chairman of the ministerial council for the defense of the reich.

Thus Goering becomes a dictator over all private and public life in Germany. He was charged with a total overhaul of state administration and public services "with the purpose of freeing the maximum manpower for the German army and the arms industry and of adapting the entire public life in every possible respect to the demands of total war."

Forming the "big four" of Nazism to direct Germany's death battle are Hitler, Goering, Goebbels and Heinrich Himmler, the Gestapo chief appointed last week to be an all-powerful commander-in-chief of the army at home.

The big unanswered question regarding the situation of Germany was to what if any extent last week's ruthless Himmler-directed purge of rebellious Junkers in the army affect the will to fight of the individual German soldier.

The society's membership, now approaching 100, represent half the states.

Says Job In Ended

Col. Bradley Dewey has resigned his position as United States rubber director effective Sept. 1 and recommended to War Mobilization Director James S. Byrnes that the office should be abolished. The rubber director said that 836,000 tons of rubber are being produced yearly in plants of the nation's synthetic rubber program, with only a lack of manpower as the chief problem now.

HEAVY DAMAGE
TO CORN CROPOhio Pastures Also Hit by Heat and Drought; Some Get Relief

COLUMBUS, July 26.—The weather bureau reported today that the drought had intensified in the western half of Ohio during the past week, and that corn crops were badly "burned" as far north as Dayton.

Meteorologist George W. Mindling said reports from weather stations indicate the dry spell has broken in Eastern Ohio, but is becoming "severe" in the western counties.

"Most stations in Western Ohio report the drought intensifying," Mindling said. "Corn is badly 'fired' as far north as Dayton, and elsewhere its leaves are rolled and it is two or more inches shorter than it should be at this time of year."

Ohio State university extension department specialists meanwhile gave varying estimates of drought damage to the corn crop, ranging from 20 per cent in some areas to 50 per cent in others.

Heat Damages Pastures
Pastures in all sections of the state except the extreme north and northeast were reported badly damaged by the heat, with farmers putting their cattle on winter rations of dry feed.

The central Ohio sweet corn crop, according to the bureau report, is so poor that some canneries will remain closed.

A number of weather stations in the eastern half of the state reported adequate rainfall within the past week, others have had less than 35 of an inch.

The drought in the Youngstown section has been relieved. Akron reports the drought definitely ended. Warren had showers but more were needed there.

Columbiana county had scattered showers of varying intensity during the past week, but more were needed. Early potatoes in that county

EMPTY SHIP BURNS IN NEW YORK FIRE

NEW YORK, July 26.—An empty, 10,000-ton Liberty ship and a Hudson river pier where the vessel was being repaired were damaged today by a fire in which at least 15 persons were injured slightly.

Firemen battled two hours before bringing the flames under control. They expressed belief the blaze may have been caused by sparks from welding torches, dropped on the pier.

The three-alarm fire occurred about 3 a. m. First reports that the vessel carried explosives brought two police emergency squads and a disaster unit to the scene.

LINE SMASHED
BY AMERICAN
TANK FORCESYanks Pound Into Flaming
Battle With Foe Armor
In Marigny Streets

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, July 26.—U. S. tanks in their first major operation in France smashed a breach four miles deep in the first German defense line west of St. Lo today and hammered into a flaming battle with enemy armor in the streets of Marigny.

The heavy thrust, with infantrymen riding the steel tanks and bombers paving the way, endangered thousands of badly-battered German forces along the enemy's southern defenses.

It penetrated the outer crust of Nazi defenses in a couple of hours, carrying four miles south of the St. Lo-Periers road, and smashed against the first heavy defenses near Marigny. This is a road junction just north of the highway angling southwest from St. Lo to Coutances near the west coast.

Packs of German Tanks
The whole 25-mile American front from St. Lo west to the sea rocked to the thunder of a tremendous artillery barrage just before dawn. Then came wave after wave of attacking Marauders and fighter bombers. Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's doughboys made local advances despite heavy German resistance in some sectors. Supreme headquarters said the front still was expanding.

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel was throwing in arms against the British and Canadians. Packs of upwards of 30 and 40 German tanks attacked at a time, but in the main the British and Canadians were holding their gains of yesterday.

The major German armored thrust against Verrieres was crumpled by cool British gunners who held firm and picked off the enemy tanks or dispersed them.

This town, five miles south of Caen, still was in British hands after an all night battle. A front dispatch said that a mile to the east the British fell back to the northern exit of Tilly-La-Campagne in the face of bitter German attacks.

Put Up Furious Fight
Moving forward with heavy air support, the British were unable to crack the German hold on May-sur-Orne last night. A front officer said that Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's powerhouse drive down the Orne river had reached the "main German position."

German troops were putting up a furious fight against the greatest Allied effort thus far to break out of the beachhead, smash key chunks of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces and hit the road inland for even greater operations.

The Americans on the west and the British and Canadians on the east were encountering intense artillery, mortar and machinegun fire as they penetrated the Germans' hastily erected forward defense line.

ONE SALEM POLIO CASE, 72 IN OHIO

Progress is reported today in the condition of young Paul Wiggers, Jr., five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wiggers of 237 Hawley ave., the city's only victim of infantile paralysis at the present time.

Dr. R. T. Holzbach, city health commissioner, reported today that the Wiggers child is the only positive case in Salem, although another child is under observation for an illness which may be polio.

Little Paul Wiggers is receiving the Kenny treatment at Akron Children's hospital and is responding slowly to the treatment.

Seventy-two cases for the year have been reported in the state, State Health Director R. H. Markham announced, pointing out that only 15 were recorded for the corresponding period last year.

The situation in the state is the most critical since 1941, when there were 480 cases, and the peak is not expected before August or September, the director said.

Nazi Suicide

After writing a letter to Hitler in which he described the military situation as "hopelessly tragic" and demanding that a war now being fought for "personal ambition or party prestige" be brought to an end, Field Marshal Von Busch committed suicide, according to a Polish underground report. Busch was one of the generals involved in the revolt against Hitler.

STRATEGIC JAP
FORTRESS HITNaval Task Forces Strike
Palau and Sabang, Say
Jap Radio Report

(By Associated Press)
Powerful Allied naval task forces operating 3,000 miles apart have assaulted Palau in the Western Pacific and Sabang in the Dutch East Indies, the Japanese radio said today.

A U. S. task force made up chiefly of carriers struck Palau on an unspecified date, Tokyo said, and two out of 30 attacking planes were shot down. This unconfirmed announcement added, in the usual Japanese vein, that damage was small.

Cruisers, destroyers, submarines and carrier planes hit Sabang yesterday, the Japanese said in another unconfirmed broadcast, raiding the harbor and city there. Two Allied destroyers and a submarine were sunk, Tokyo said.

Sabang, situated on We Island just off northwest Sumatra, was last attacked April 19 by a British-American French-Dutch naval force which smashed nearly every military installation in sight.

The Palau attack, if true, was a logical follow-up to the steady American progress on invaded Guam and Tinian to the north in the Marianas.

Strategic Sea Fortress
Palau is one of Japan's most strategic sea fortresses and harbors the center of her South Sea government. Its 100 islands shield the Southern Philippines. The geography explains its importance. It lies 560 miles east of Mindanao, 810 miles southwest of Guam, 800 miles northwest of Hollandia, Gen. MacArthur's big base on New

VISTULA RIVEROther Russians Drive To Within 50 Miles of Polish Capital

(By Associated Press)
MOSCOW, July 26.—Hard-riding Cossacks reached the east bank of the Vistula (Warsaw) river today while other Russian units, supported for the first time by U. S. planes in direct tactical operations, surrounded the mauled German garrison at Lwow and stormed into that great rail city.

The Vistula was reached in the Pulawy area, 66 miles southeast of threatened Warsaw. There the Cossacks engaged the battered Germans within 35 miles of Berlin and 142 of German Silesia.

Lightnings and Mustangs, of the U. S. 15th air force flew from U. S. bases in Russia, destroying 38 German planes in the Lwow area without loss. They strafed an airfield 100 miles northwest of the surrounded city, shot up German transport and gun positions.

Beyond the Vistula, a rolling plain ideal for tanks and horsemen such as the heavily armed Cossacks, invites swift advance.

Approaching Kiev
Other Russians driving frontally on Warsaw along the main trunk railway from Kiev were reported between 40 and 50 miles from the Polish capital.

Hungary and Czecho-Slovakia were in the path of yet another Russian army group which virtually surrounded Stanislawow and reached within 28 miles of the Hungarian-held Tatar pass in the Carpathians.

(The German news agency Transocean said in a broadcast that "some of the greatest battles of this war now are raging on the river San and on the approaches to the Vistula.")

Decisions appeared near in the Red army's drives to achieve four great objectives: smash the Baltic front in half; liberate all Poland; bring the war to the soil of East Prussia and Prussia itself, and open the mountain gateways to the Danube basin.

Within 50 miles of Warsaw, symbol of the Polish people's heroism in 1939, joint Russian-Polish forces under the supreme command of Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky savagely engaged German reserves attempting to stabilize the sector between the Polish capital and the Siedlce area.

Encircle Dvinsk
Gen. Ivan Bagramian's First Baltic army encircled Dvinsk, largest city in eastern Latvia, after severing the railway line to Riga, 104 miles to the northwest.

Riga, capture of which would destroy the center of the German front along the Baltic coast, isolate resisting divisions in Estonia and speed up the Finnish capitulation, was less than 70 miles distant from Soviet troops pushing due north from middle Lithuania.

The 25th German general reported in the Lwow district, where the capital city shook with the fire of Soviet armored and mobile guns cleaning out machine-gun nests street by street. He is Gen. Hauffe and his entire staff followed him into captivity, the Russians said. Hauffe, who was wounded, was commander of the German 13th army corps.

Truck and Passenger Car Collide; No One Injured

No one was injured in a truck-passenger car accident about four miles east of Columbiana on Route 14 at 11:30 last night, state patrolmen said today.

A truck, driven by Theodore Sullivan, 29, of Detroit, collided with a car driven by Andrew Kliner, 36, of New Waterford, was passing another truck going east on Route 14. Sullivan told police he was proceeding west and swerved to miss Kliner's vehicle as it rounded the truck it was passing.

Both vehicles were damaged slightly, police said.

Lakeside Plans To Wipe

LAKEVILLE, O., July 26.—The Lakeside foundation has opened a campaign to raise $500,000 to liquidate the summer resort's $250,000 indebtedness and finance improvements.

Planned improvements include construction of a youth center to accommodate groups meeting here annually, a new bathing beach, street repairs, enlargement of a filtration plant and expanded hotel quarters.

Fire Damages Laundry
LEBANON, July 26.—Fire caused $25,000 damage last night at a laundry here, the bulk of the loss being clothing. J. R. Brown, the owner, said the blaze was believed to have been started by lightning.

MR. WALLACE TO BE HEARD FROM

Aside from a brief statement insisting he was "happy" about the outcome, Vice President Wallace is still to be heard from on the political subject of the hour. When—and if—his tongue is untied, he alone can speak with authority on his following's probable reaction from the rough handling it received at Chicago.

Mr. Wallace also could speculate on a more important reaction. His successor as Mr. Roosevelt's foil, Sen. Truman, is supposed to produce a net increase in the ticket's strength by appealing southern Democrats, who were believed ready to run out if Mr. Wallace received renomination. The companion theory to this was that Mr. Wallace's following had no place else to go and therefore did not have to be placated.

Actually, it may turn out that convention strategists had the theory backward. It is the southern Democrats who have no place else to go; even if they stay away from the polls, their states are still safe for the ticket. But Mr. Wallace's following can make many critical states unsafe for the ticket by staying away from the polls—not necessarily through spite but merely through indifference.

Republicans who have been waiting anxiously to hear from Wendell Willkie aren't half so anxious now as Democrats waiting to hear from Henry Wallace—to discover whether he will still be "happy" about the outcome of the convention when it is time to vote. It has been a generation since Woodrow Wilson's New Freedom perished by the sword, but Mr. Wallace may remember enough of the circumstances to detect a certain similarity.

GERMANY'S SMOLDERING FIRES

The true extent of Germany's present internal troubles will be a post-war disclosure; but meanwhile where there is so much smoke there must be some fire.

A decade of repression, persecution, purges and evil connivance under Hitler's regime have stored up enough fuel to feed the fires of a major revolution. Ultimately, they must blaze up and burn themselves out.

If, as now seems probable, the army revolt has been controlled after a fashion, and Germany is not going to be led into capitulation by dissident Junkers, the temporary result must be called satisfactory for the Allies. They have nothing to gain in the long run by anything short of a fight to the finish. There must never be another Hitler screaming to the German people that they were cheated of victory because the war stopped too soon. They must know this time that the war did not stop soon enough; that they were defeated, not betrayed.

If Germans, themselves, can eliminate the Junkers this time, the Nazis perhaps can be depended on to eliminate themselves with the blood-letting which has been their political trademark. They may take responsibility for their liquidation and destruction inside Germany into their own hands, saving their enemies the trouble. A million rounds of small arms ammunition—and the small arms to use it in—if placed in the right hands in Germany right now might do more to secure the hope of an era of peace than a hundred words of firm resolution and high purpose.

THEY'VE READ IT, SENATOR

Sen. Taft says he suspects the critics who are jumping on him for being the author of the Hatch act amendment regulating published material circulated in the armed forces by the government at public expense may not have read the amendment at all, because they are making so many misstatements.

That may be true of some persons who are interested only in baiting Sen. Taft—a popular pastime among a great many Americans who are using him as the whipping boy for their frustrated dreams of being able to put on their pants quicker than one leg at a time. But it is not true of the rest, senator.

They know what the amendment says, and it burns them up because it means they can't use public money to load down the armed forces with a lot of reading matter they didn't ask for and wouldn't read, but which would satisfy the zealots' everlasting itch to try to ram their ideas down the other fellow's throat.

NEW HANDS

President Roosevelt's inclusion in his acceptance speech of this statement cannot be disregarded: "It seems wholly likely that within the next four years our armed forces, and those of our allies, will have gained a complete victory over Germany and Japan, and that the world once more will be at peace—under a system, we hope, which will prevent a new world war. In any event, new hands will then have full opportunity to realize the ideals which we seek."

The language is plain—that if "within four years" the war is over, "new hands" will be given responsibility for post-war security. It is potentially an announcement of intent to turn over the burden of the presidency, if Mr. Roosevelt is reelected, to someone else; to remain in office for only the duration of the war, then to retire. Of all the things said and implied in the welter of words from the Democratic national convention, this is easily the most significant.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, July 27

A moderately active day, with definite headway gained by close and diligent attention to affairs in hand, with application, sound judgment and proper system and detail, worked out with an idea of future security and endurance. This worthy effort is likely to attract the attention of elders, employers or others who may be moved to generosity and good will, possibly to the extent of gifts, bequests or other substantial endowments. Work earnestly for such rewards.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have the opportunity for industry, meritorious effort or other service that may win the recognition and hearty support of elders, employers or superiors who may be disposed to be generous in their tokens of approbation. It may be in the form of gifts, trusts or inheritance, for reward of merit, sound judgment, fidelity with sense of duty and obligation. Work faithfully for such enduring ends, with security and good fortune.

A child born on this day should have many sound as well as brilliant talents bespeaking for it a solid, enduring and secure future, with appreciation and good luck.

Wounded Get Prompt Attention

BY JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—According to reports filled with superlatives reaching here, the Army and Navy medical corps have hit the top rung of efficiency in the invasion of France.

With wounded casualties mounting into the thousands on the Cherbourg peninsula, the report of Maj. Gen. Paul R. Hawley, chief surgeon in the European theater, to Maj. Gen. Norman T. Kirk, U. S. Army surgeon general, should be of some comfort to families of men shot down in battle.

Normandy wounded now are being sent back to England by plane within an hour after they reach evacuation fields behind the lines. Twenty-four to 36 hours later, some of them are on hospital trains in the United States, headed for base hospitals near their homes. It is possible for wounded to be bedded in the hospitals here even before their next of kin can be notified of their injuries. Air evacuation from France has now supplanted almost all other types, Maj. Gen. Hawley reported.

Field hospitals are moving up behind the lines as fast as air strips can be built or repaired. It's rare when wounded are kept there as long as 12 hours in England they are met by field hospital platoons who move them by ambulance to fixed hospitals nearby.

One phase of the general's report should be of double interest to the home front, for it is one factor in which many civilians have shared.

"Both whole blood and plasma," he said, "have been plentiful in every medical installation from the clearing station to the hospital, including LSTs and hospital carriers. There has been enough penicillin to treat all cases that required it and the freedom of wounds from infection has been a source of surprise to all our surgeons."

"In every medical unit I visited, I inquired especially as to the status of supply. I did not get a single answer that was not that they had everything they wanted."

Someone had the girl by the hair. Then I saw the flash of scissors and great hunks of black hair fell from her head. I asked a Frenchman the reason and he said she had been a friend of the Germans.—Lt. Francis Carpenter, in France.

Malaria Recurrent In War Times

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
EVERY WAR which the United States has ever fought has brought back to temperate regions an increased incidence of malaria. We take Massachusetts around Boston for an example because we have very complete reports on that region. This area is pre-eminently not a malarial country. The weather is not conducive to the breeding of the mosquitoes which carry malaria, and there are no extensive swamp lands to furnish the ideal habitat for the mosquito.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Under normal conditions within historical times the incidence of malaria in Massachusetts is almost nil. In 1864, however, soldiers returning from the Civil War who had been fighting and living in southern climates raised the malaria incidence in Massachusetts to a high peak and furnished a reservoir so that even the civil population had some experience with the disease.

After the Spanish American War in the same region the same results were noted, only in a more marked degree. From 1915 to 1919 there was a slight rise in the reported incidence, due entirely to sailors in the Marine Hospital. Now returning soldiers from the Pacific, Italy and Africa raise the incidence anew.

Malaria Areas

In the whole area of the United States we have in our own time malaria always in Louisiana, Mississippi and parts of the Gulf States, though it is kept pretty well in control. In the memory of man living it used to be prevalent farther north—in Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri, Ohio and Kentucky. In fact it was the great infectious disease which plagued the early settlers in the westward march. But the draining of the swamps and idle water and mosquito control has largely wiped it out.

The men of the armed forces from the Pacific area are bringing back some of the worst complications of the most malignant forms of malaria.

The ordinary, usual form of malaria—chills and fever every day (the tertian form), or every other day (the tertian form), or every fourth day (the quotidian form) can be supposed to be recognized by any medical man. But the queer forms may prove a great puzzle in a non-malarial country when the physician is not on the alert to suspect every sick person of having some form of malaria.

Types of Disease

There is, for instance, the comatose form when the patient begins with an active delirium and subsides into a deep state of unconsciousness, a coma. And the algid form which presents a severe acute digestive disturbance with nausea, vomiting and diarrhea. There may be no actual chill in either of these forms. Or again the haemorrhagic form with passing of bloody urine (blackwater fever), or bloody vomiting, etc. Then the cachectic, or anemic form with onset with great prostration and haemorrhage into the retina of the eye and great depletion of the blood.

It is unlikely that malaria, particularly the malignant tropical forms, will gain any foothold in this country. Quinine is, as it has always been, a sovereign remedy. And our supply of quinine, threatened early in the war by the Japanese occupation of Java, is now apparently quite safe and abundant, especially since the announcement a few days ago of the synthetic production of quinine by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology chemists. Public health officers are alert to the draining of swamps and killing of mosquitoes in potentially malarial districts, as I am reminded by an announcement from the extermination committee of Nassau County, New York.

Malaria is, let us remember, the greatest disease scourge of the world. It is the real Fourth Horseman of the Apocalypse.

OUR READERS

WOMEN FOR WAR WORK

In England with bombs dropping daily, the women know there is a war being fought. Those women have responded with a will and every woman who can possibly engage in war work of some kind is now doing so.

Not so in Salem. One company alone in this city needs over 200 women workers at this very moment, women to turn out vital munitions for our armed forces. The work is here; the need is here; the needed workers are here. But to get the women into the jobs seems to be an impossibility.

Is it that the women of Salem do not realize there is a war being fought? Is it that they do not realize that unfulfilled or delayed contracts mean a longer war, and a larger loss of American life?

It could of course be any one of these reasons but we of the United States Employment Service feel that we have failed to make them aware how terribly serious the present situation is. We believe that the women of Salem are as patriotic and as willing war-workers as any women in these United States. We hope they will awake to an awareness of the need for their services and that they will respond immediately by contacting the United States Employment Service office for referral to these jobs, desirable, well-paying and so very vital to the war effort.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE
Donald Mackenzie, President of the Wrightsville National Bank, testified that James Haight had borrowed considerable sums from the PFC during the last months of the preceding year.

Q—On what collateral, Mr. Mackenzie?

A—None.

Q—Isn't that unusual for your bank, Mr. Mackenzie?

A—Well, the PFC has a very liberal policy, but of course we usually ask for collateral. Just as you understand. Only, however, Mr. Haight was Vice-President of the Wrightsville National Bank and the son-in-law of John Wright, the company made an exception in his case and advanced the loans on signature only.

Q—Has the defendant made any payments against his indebtedness?

A—Well, no.

Q—Has your company made any effort to collect the moneys due?

A—Well, yes. Not that we were worried about it, but after asking Mr. Haight several times to make the required payments and getting no satisfaction, we finally went to the bank to see Mr. Wright, Mr. Haight's father-in-law, and explained the situation. Mr. Wright said he hadn't known about his son-in-law's loan but of course he'd make it good himself, and I wasn't to say anything about it. I would have to do only this trial and all.

Q—Did John F. Wright repay your company the loan in full?

A—Yes.

Q—Has the defendant borrowed any money since January the first of this year?

A—No, sir.

Q—Have you had any conversations with the defendant since January the first of this year?

A—Yes, Mr. Haight came in to see me in the middle of January and started to explain why he hadn't paid anything on his loan.

Q—Did he make some bad investment—asked for time and said he'd surely pay back his debt.

A—He said to him that his father-in-law already done that.

Q—What did the defendant say to that?

A—He didn't say a word. He just walked out of my office.

Q—Mr. Mackenzie, didn't it strike you as strange that the vice-president of a banking institution like the Wrightsville National Bank and the son-in-law of the President of that bank should come to you for a loan?

A—Well, I figured it was a confidential matter, you see.

Q—In a confidential matter, without explanations or collateral on a mere signature, you still advanced the sum of five thousand dollars?

A—Well, I knew John F. would make good if—

Eli Martin: That's all, Mr. Mackenzie.

Not all the evidence against Jim Haight came out in the courtroom. Some of it came out in Vic Carlati's, some in the Hollis Hotel Tontorial Parlor, some in Dr. Emil Poffenberger's dental office in the Upham Block, some in Gus Olesen's Roadside Tavern.

And when it was all put together, Wrightsville began to say: Now there's something funny going on.

Do you suppose Frank Lloyd was right about Prosecutor Carter Bradford's being the Wright's friend and ally? Why doesn't he put Luigi and Dr. Poffenberger on the stand? And Gus Olesen? And the others? Why, this all makes it plain as day that Jim Haight wanted to kill Nora!

He threatened her all over town!

Chief Dakin was tackled by Luigi Marino before court opened one morning when the police head came in for a quick shave. Joe Lupin listened from the next chair with both ears.

"Say, Chief!" said Luigi in great excitement. "I been lookin' all over for a you! I just remember something hot!"

"Yeah, Luigi? Once-over, and take it easy."

"Las Novemb' Jim-a Haight, he come in here one day for I should cut-a his hair. I say to Mist' Haight, 'Mist' Haight, I feel-a fine. I'm-a gonna get hitched!' Mist' Haight he say, who's-a the lucky gal? I say: 'Francesca Botigliano. She been workin' for Saint-a Louey, but she's-a comin' to Wrightsville to be Mrs. Marino—I send-a her the ticket an' expense-a mon'-myself."

"So what-a does Mist' Haight say? He say: 'Luigi, nev' marry a poor gal! There ain't-a no percent-age in it! You see? He marry that-a gal Nora Wright for her mon'! You get-a Mist' Bradford put me on-a stand. I'll tell-a dat story!"

Chief Dakin laughed.

But Wrightsville did not. To the mob it seemed logical that Luigi's story should be part of the trial testimony. It would show that Haight married Nora Wright for her money. If a man would marry a woman for her money, he'd poison her for it, too.

Dr. Poffenberger had actually gone to Prosecutor Bradford before the trial and offered to testify.

"Why, Haight came to me last December, Cart, suffering from an abscessed wisdom tooth. I gave him gas and while he was under the influence of it, he kept saying: 'I'll get rid of her! I'll get rid of her!'"

And then he said: 'I need that money for myself. I want that money for myself! Doesn't that prove he was planning to kill her, and why?'"

"No," said Bradford wearily. "Unconscious utterances. Inadmissible testimony. Go way, Emil, and let me work, will you?"

The dentist was indignant. He repeated the story to as many of his patients as would listen, which was practically all of them.

Gus Olesen's story reached the Prosecutor's ears by way of Patrolman Chris Dorfman, Radio Division (one car). Chris had "happened" to drop into Gus Olesen's place for a "cuke" (he said), and Gus, "all het up," had told him what Jim Haight had once said to him Gus, on the occasion of a "speer."

"Just what is it Haight is supposed to have said, Chris?" asked Prosecutor Bradford.

"Well, Gus says Jim used to drive up to the Tavern cockeyed and wanting a drink, and Gus says he'd always turn him down. Once he even called up Mrs. Haight and asked her to come down and get her husband, he was raisin' such Cain. But the thing Gus remembers that you ought to get into your trial, Mr. Bradford, is wen one night Haight was in there he kept ravin' about wives, and marriages, and then he said: 'nothin' to do but get rid of her. Gus, I gotta get rid of her quick or I'll go nuts. She's drivin' me nuts!'"

"Statements under the influence of liquor," groaned Cart. "Highly questionable. Do you want me to lose this case on reversible error? Go back to your radio car!"

So Wrightsville muttered that there was "something phony," and buzzed and buzzed.

The rumors reached Judge Lyndal Newbold's ears. From that day on, at the end of each court session, he sternly admonished the jury not to discuss the case with anyone, not even among themselves. It was thought that Eli Martin had something to do with calling the rumors to Judge Newbold's attention.

Rumor inflamed temper began to creep into the courtroom, and it mounted and flew back and forth between the old lawyer and Prosecutor Bradford until the press began to nudge one another with wise looks and say "the ol' boy is crackin'."

Thomas Winship, head cashier of the Wrightsville National Bank, testified that James Haight had used a thin red crayon in his work at the bank.

The last exhibit placed in evidence by Bradford was Edgcomb's Toxicology, with its telltale section marked in red crayon—the section dealing with arsenic.

This exhibit passed from hand to hand in the jury box while Judge Martin looked "confident" and Haight, by the old lawyer's side at the defense table, grew very pale and was seen to glance about quickly, as if seeking escape. But the moment passed, and thenceforward he behaved as before—silent, limp in his chair, his gray face almost bored.

At the close of Friday's session, March 28, Prosecutor Bradford indicated that he "might be close to finished," but that he would know better when court convened the following Monday morning. He thought it likely the People would rest on Monday.

The prisoner was taken back to his cell on the top floor of the Court-house, the courtroom emptied, and the Wrights went home. There was nothing to do but wait for Monday.

... and try to cheer up Nora, who lay on the chaise longue in her pretty bedroom, plucking the roses of her chintz window drapes. Hermy had refused to let her attend the trial; and after two days of tears,

Nora had stopped fighting, exhausted.

But another thing happened on Friday, March 28. Roberta Roberts lost her job. The newspaper woman had maintained her stubborn defense of Jim Haight in her column throughout the trial. On Friday Roberta received a wire from her boss notifying her that he was "yanking the column."

"What are you going to do now?" asked Ellery Queen.

"Stay on in Wrightsville. I'm one of those who never give up. I can still do Jim Haight some good."

Roberta spent the whole of Saturday morning in Jim's cell, urging him to speak up, to fight back, to strike a blow in his own defense.

Judge Martin was there, and Ellery, they heard Roberta's vigorous plea in silence.

But Jim merely shook his head, or made no answering gesture at all—a figure bowed, three-quarters dead.

Household Hints

Never put cold water in enamel pans while the pot or pan is hot.

Cook young tender dandelion greens like spinach and serve garnished with hard-boiled egg.

Salmon was named "salmo" by the Romans who took it from the Latin word meaning "to leap."

Left-over mashed potatoes can be used in making soup by adding a small amount of water or milk to the potatoes, cooking for a few minutes, adding a small onion and some diced celery leaves. When done, add enough milk for the desired amount of soup.

Be sure slip covers are pre-shrunk before buying.

Dry beans are an excellent source of iron, phosphorus and calcium.

Dusty bulbs and lamp shades waste electricity, giving from 20 to 50 per cent less light.

Accidents may happen if the cellar stairs are cluttered or if spilled liquids are not wiped up.

Light scorch marks should be rinsed in clear, cool water and then put in the sun to bleach.

COTTON ED SMITH TRAILS JOHNSTON

(By Associated Press)
The end of a Senate trail that he set out on nearly 36 years ago beckoned today for the vociferous and colorful "Cotton Ed" Smith, New Deal-hating senator from South Carolina.

Smith was far back in second place in yesterday's Democratic primary and the man he trailed was Gov. Olen D. Johnston, who tried unsuccessfully, with President Roosevelt's help, to unseat the veteran in 1938.

And in Arkansas' Democratic primary, the Senate's only woman member, quiet Hattie Caraway, lagged far behind in a renomination try she had apparently thought was so safe she could afford to campaign only leisurely.

The leader there was Rep. J. W. Fulbright, 39, who is serving his first term in congress.

Smith, whose once bristling mustache now lies close cropped, has been in the senate since March 4, 1909 and is just a month short of 80 years of age.

JAP FORTRESS

Guinea, and is close to the Dutch East Indies.

In five days of hard fighting marines and army troops joined beachheads on Guam and started grinding down Japanese forces trapped on Orote peninsula, southern arm of Apra harbor.

"The beaches are well secured and there's nothing the Jap can do now to run us off," said Maj. Gen. Roy Geiger, chief of American land forces on Guam. Doomed enemy troops jumped in the ocean when land and sea artillery opened heavy fire on Orote. An airfield, a naval base and Agaña, Guam's capital, were the American objectives.

On Tinian, 125 miles northward, warship and plane bombardments split the Jap forces in two. Japanese troops suicidally rushed against the U. S. troops on the first night of invasion, screaming and waving samurai swords. They were cut down like wheat. The invaders control part of an airstrip.

In five days at least 2,400 Guam Japanese were killed against a total of 443 U. S. dead. Two days of fighting on Tinian cost the Americans 15 dead and 225 wounded against 1,324 Japanese known dead.

Gen. MacArthur reported shattered enemy units apparently were regrouping for another lunge against the trap encircling them on New Guinea. Many Japanese have died in previous attempts.

Rain In Midwest

Rain fell over a wide section of the Midwest today and corn crops in that area, menaced by a drought, were greatly benefitted, said the U. S. Weather bureau.

The heavy thundershowers, said Forecaster H. L. Jacobson, in Chicago struck "just where they were most needed," and the downpours, he added, "are bound to help the corn crops."

Corn in Iowa, the country's largest producing state, was reported fair to good and no drought conditions had been reported. Conditions in Kansas, also a heavy corn producer, were reported good, following recent "corn making rain."

British Suggest Separate Peace With Italy Be Made

WASHINGTON, July 26. — A British suggestion that the Allies write a provisional peace with Italy, which now has the combined standing of defeated enemy and co-belligerent, is before American authorities.

This was learned today, also that the plan awaits discussion with Russia and other countries interested in the Italian settlement.

As now contemplated, the peace treaty would leave aside all territorial questions, and probably other final claims such as reparations, for later decision.

Primarily, it would serve to regularize Italy's relations with the United States, clarify the position of Italian war prisoners, and enable Italian soldiers to re-form and get into the front lines of the battle in their homeland.

Theater

"It Happened Tomorrow," showing Wednesday and Thursday at the State theater, is a fantastic story woven around a young newspaper reporter who, supposedly, secures a copy of tomorrow's paper... today, enabling him to know and predict events one day ahead.

As a result of his ownership of the paper, he finds himself involved in a series of strange adventures during which he wins a fortune at the racetrack, falls in love with a phony fortune teller, and finally lands in jail when police link his name with crimes he has predicted after reading tomorrow's papers.

Dick Powell is cast as the reporter who finally reads his own death notice in the paper, and Linda Darnell plays the fortune teller, Jack Oakie and Edgar Kennedy are in the supporting cast.

Concluding tonight at the Grand are two popular movies playing return engagements. "Vivacious Lady," starring Ginger Rogers and James Stewart, is the story of the staid university town into which the university president's son brings a show girl as his wife. "Valley of the Sun," with Lucille Ball and James Craig, is the co-feature.

FOOD IS AMMUNITION!

The responsibility of protecting the perishable food supply of a nation at war, falls squarely upon the Ice Industry.

Fresh food is ammunition that must be supplied daily to our fighting men in training, our war workers and our civilian population—and ICE is the only known refrigerant that will protect our precious supply of vitamin-laden food on its long journey from producer to consumer.

Day and night, every day in the year, more than one hundred and forty thousand refrigerators and many thousand refrigerated trucks packed to capacity with meat, fish, fowl, eggs, fruits and vegetables are on the move to military camps, markets and warehouses the country over.

During the past year this one service alone required more than twelve million tons of Ice—the largest amount ever used in the history of the country for transporting perishable foods. In addition, thousands of tons of Ice were required daily to protect the nation's milk supply—produced many miles from the point of consumption—on its long journey to market. Only Ice can give this essential and delicate food the protection it must have.

Ice protects the nation's vital food supply not only in transit, but in camps and homes, in food stores, hospitals, restaurants and other essential establishments.

More than twenty billion pounds were required last year by eleven million American homes which use Ice for refrigeration and fourteen million tons by commercial users—while the demands of nearly six hundred Army and Navy camps and training centers throughout the country exceeded by millions of tons those of any other war year in the nation's history.

The staggering and record-breaking total for 1943 was well over forty million tons of Ice—produced by 6,500 Ice plants practically all working twenty-four hours a day, every day in the year—produced in spite of wartime shortages of manpower, materials and equipment, problems created by mass migration of population to industrial centers and abnormally high temperatures during the peak season.

Without this record-breaking production of nature's own refrigerant—ICE—the country's supply of vital food would have faced spoilage and the health of the nation would have been seriously threatened.

It is an achievement of which your Ice Service Man, the Ice Industry and its hundred and fifty thousand loyal workers are justly proud.

Along with its vital war activities, the Ice Industry is continuing its leadership in the Refrigeration Industry by constantly maintained research and post-war planning. After Victory comes we will be ready with many interesting innovations in product and service—as well as refrigerators of entirely new design, so that you can enjoy even better refrigeration than ever before. Ice Marches On—with a Nation at war!

Lack Of Power At Plate And Poor Fielding Costs China 2-0 Loss At Dover

A complete lack of hitting power and a poor performance in the field cost the Salem China- and Dale Ritchie, who pitched four-hit ball—a 2-0 loss at Dover last night against the powerful Shenango Steel Co. softballers.

The game, a special event arranged by Fred Webber of Dover as a benefit contest for war veterans at Fletcher General hospital, was played under the lights at Dover stadium.

Although the night playing and grassy infield were new to the Salem aggregation, an excess of errors—eight of them—and a shortage of hits—just three—spelled defeat for the locals. Of the two Dover runs, neither was earned nor was even involved in the four hits allowed by Ritchie.

The Salem hurler turned in one of his best shows of the year and held the strong-hitting team to four safeties, one of which went for two bases.

The first Dover run came in the initial inning when three errors in a row allowed the tally. Ritchie allowed one hit in the second another in the third and one more in the seventh but kept runners away from the plate in spite of five more errors on the part of his teammates.

The final tally came in the eighth inning when, with the bases loaded after an intentional pass, the China aggregation missed a chance to trap a man off third and Ritchie walked in the run.

The only Salem hit came in the seventh when three men were on base with one out. A long fly ball would have tied the game, but the batter popped up to the pitcher and the next man fled out to left field to end Salem hopes.

Ralph Pace, who did the mound work for Dover, held Salem to three hits and fanned nine batters. He walked one man on an intentional pass. Ritchie fanned one batter, issued four walks, one of which was intentional, and allowed four hits.

Besides the regular China lineup, Manager John Ehrhart used Herb

Brown at third base, Jimmy Appedisan at second, Charlie Huffer in right field and Shorty Borton at roving short.

SPORT CHATTER

By FRITZ HOWELL

Pinch-hitting for Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, July 26—A spree grew in Brooklyn Monday night as the artless Dodgers blasted nine runs in the seventh inning to beat Pittsburgh's Pirates, and the fans hummed "Dixie" along the banks of the Gowanus in honor of Outfielder Walker who hit the game-clinching homer.

Today, however, after yesterday's 14-6 loss to Chicago—the 22nd defeat in 25 starts for the "Durocher dopes"—the backers of the Bums were singing their same plaintive old theme song:

"Don't get a run much anymore."

DOUBLE AND REDOUBLE
Branch Rickey, asked whether he was contemplating any managerial changes due to the Dodger defeats, cleared up nothing at all by replying: "I am contemplating no change right now, but I could change my mind tomorrow or in five months, if reasons presented themselves. But I do not anticipate those reasons."

WE'RE ASKING YOU
No. 1—What pitcher holds the record for beating a club the most times in season?
No. 2—Who was the only pitcher to hurl a double-header shutout, and against what team?
(No peeking—the answers are at the end of the column.)

SHORT AND SNAPLESS
Dick Anderson, Sports Editor of the Evansville (Ind.) Press, is an original guy. When the 20th armored division baseballers beat the Serval Wings 15 to 0, Third Sacker Mike Simon of the winners blocked team mate, Howie Muderki's vision on a ground ball, and Shortstop Muderki muffed it. Official Score Anderson figured Simon helped cause the fumble, so he scored it: Errors—Simon 1/2, Muderki 1/2.

For its opening season, the American football league will enforce a $2500 per game salary limit, and 28-player limit.
Lt. (and E. E. (Rip) Miller, Navy line coach, writing to our vacationing "snipe" Claxson, urged "if you catch any big fish send 'em to me—we might have to use 'em for tackles."

WE'RE TELLING YOU
No. 1—Ed Ruelbach of Cubs beat Dodgers nine times in 1938.
No. 2—Ruelbach blanked the Dodgers twice, Sept. 26, 1938.

Hunting License Sales
In the number of hunting licenses issued in the United States during the 1942-43 season, Michigan topped the list with 795,251, followed by Pennsylvania with 648,620, and Ohio third with 553,072, according to figures just released by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Ohio's total receipts from this source ran to $698,376 compared with Pennsylvania's $1,406,310 and Michigan's $1,161,808.

In the sale of federal duck stamps, Ohio scored 27,631, ranking 17 in the roll of states.

TRIBE IN MIDST OF PENNANT RUN, DOWN YANKS, 10-0

Clevelanders Have Taken Eight of Nine Games Against East

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
Cleveland nursed a budding pennant boom today as the Tribe celebrated its eighth win in nine starts against eastern opposition and a 10-0 landslide over the New York Yankees.

Lou Boudreau's club, always touted as the "best on paper" but a consistent disappointment to its followers, quit the cellar less than a month ago and moved into fourth place by easy stages.

Although still in fourth spot, Cleveland trailed second place New York by a single game and the leading St. Louis Browns by 4 1/2.

As the Cleveland-New York series went into its second stage tonight the big league calendar called for the final seven games of 16 scheduled for war relief. In addition to the all-star game in Pittsburgh that sent $116,275 into the service bat and ball fund, nine special games topped the total to $304,775.

Benefit Games
St. Louis, Cleveland and Chicago in the American and all the eastern clubs in the National give over today's receipts to the war fund in an effort to hit the $500,000 goal.

All war fund games, except the Cincinnati at Boston doubleheader, will be played tonight. Every team will have given over one home date to the cause.

Steve Gromek, a strong armed chucker for Baltimore next year, shut out the Yanks for Cleveland, sprinkling six blows while Ken Keltner's grand slam homer in the first frame doomed Hank Borowy.

Bob Muncie upped the Browns margin on the Yanks to 3 1/2 games by turning back Philadelphia, 9-1, for his 10th victory. Lum Harris was the main victim at St. Louis, cuffed three A's hurlers for 16 safeties before 3,462 fans. The smallest night game rowd of the major league season.

Boston stopped Detroit's surge toward the first division, 7-3, although Joe Cronin had to call in Tex Hughson to help Yank Terry grab a decision over Rufe Gentry. Bill Dietrich deceived fine relief support from Jake Wade in hurling Chicago to a 9-6 nod over Washington's Mickey Hafner.

Cards Have Easy Time
Al Jurisich kept the St. Louis Cardinals in a winning mood by blanking the Phillies, 9-0, with six hits while the National leaders teed off on Al Gieseauer.

Max Butcher threw the other shutout of the day, a 15-0 job for Pittsburgh over New York with Bob Elliott hitting in six runs. Chicago trimmed Brooklyn 14-0 as Hank Wyse won and Tom Warren lost and Arnie Carter helped his own cause with a home run as Cincinnati topped Boston 6-2 to hand Ben Cardoni his fifth straight setback.

Ohio Game Notes

The game management section of the Division of Conservation has reported these activities to Conservation Commissioner Don Waters:

As of July 5, the total of 17,240 four week old pheasants have been delivered to cooperating sportsmen. The total to be delivered will exceed 30,000. These birds will be released on public hunting areas when they have reached the age of 11 weeks, which will be in early fall.

In early June 2,000 adult breeders were released from the Urbana Game farm, 1,000 in District 3, 500 in District 5 and 600 in District 6. Supt. Edw. Nash of the Urbana Game farm states that 15,000 pheasants, from 10 to 12 weeks of age, will be shipped from the farm in August, in addition to the above.

Application has been submitted through U. S. Army officials to obtain aerial photographs of recently purchased state lands.

Game refuges to the number of 32 were established in June.

New High School Athletic Commissioner Plans To Be Ready For Duty August 1st

By HAROLD HARRISON
COLUMBUS, July 26—Harold W. Emswiler, the new commissioner of the Ohio School Athletic association, is so modest that he credits geography with the fact he has become one of the best known sports figures in the state.

For 21 years he has been secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Association of Football coaches and now he's taking over the job as boss man of all Ohio High School athletics. But it's all been geography to hear him tell it.

"I've had a lot of breaks because of the geographical location," said the slender, grey-haired Emswiler. "When the Officials' association was organized I got a break in that I was in Columbus and it is centrally located."

"When I was elected commissioner of the Athletic association I told the other members that I felt my location in centrally located Columbus had a lot to do with it."

The 57-year-old Emswiler, however, has been connected with athletics ever since his college days at Denison university. While he was in college he taught mathematics and coached all of the athletic teams at the Old Doane academy at Granville.

After that he accepted a teaching position at Columbus East High school and finally wound up as coach of the football team.

"I was told I'd only serve for one year," he said, "because I wanted to get into administrative work but we won the city championship that year."

"In those days we were paid our regular salary for teaching and then got $75 extra for coaching the football team. At the end of the season the boys raised $1.00—and that was a lot of money in those days—to try and get me to remain as coach."

Emswiler stuck by his guns, however, and that was the end of his coaching career. Subsequently, he moved along and eventually became principal of Central High school nine years ago.

He continued his sports work, however, as an official and only the war put an end to that. All except one of the colleges for which he worked dropped football with the start of the war and Emswiler quit, too.

He plans to resign as secretary-treasurer of the Coaches' Association.

Ohio Second In Fishing

Ohio was second among the states in the total number of fishing licenses sold during the year which ended June 30, 1943, with 667,155, exceeded only by Michigan with 719,441.

In receipts from this source, however, Ohio ranked fifth, behind California, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and New York, because those states have higher license rates than Ohio's 50c fee. For example, California, the top state, with a total of 431,333 licenses, took in $871,137 as against Ohio with 667,155 licenses issued and an income of $414,484. Michigan with 719,441 licenses issued received $738,068 in fees.

WARREN TO PLAY ATHLETICS HERE IN RETURN GAME

Locals Seek Revenge For 34-8 Setback Dished Out Last Week

Seeking revenge today for the worst defeat handed a Salem baseball team, the Salem Athletics again will meet the same Warren All-Star aggregation that downed them 34-8 in Warren about a week ago. The contest, slated for Centennial park, will get under way at 6:30 tonight.

Warren is boasting an enviable record and comes to Salem well-studied with talented players—most of them from the industrial teams playing in the different Warren Class A loop.

Salem, still looking for an even break in wins and losses after their setback by the Canton Spikers here Sunday probably will use Walt Smith on the slab the first four innings and Bill Allison the last five. This system worked effectively at East Liverpool last week and is expected to be used from now on.

Manager Walt Mellinger said the team would be back at full strength this week, lack of which cost them several runs and possibly a pair of games last week.

Walt Brian is due back on third base and Smith will be around to pitch today. Dale Ritchie, a heavy hitter of late, probably will be used on second base.

Warren will use the same lineup they employed against Salem a week ago Sunday. Since they met Salem they have dropped one game to the Youngstown East Side Clives and two more others. The Youngstown squad is considered one of the best in the A league there.

Camp Reynolds, an all-service team, is due to appear here at 3 p. m. Sunday, according to C. S. Chisholm, sponsor of the Salem A. C. The Reynolds aggregation boasts several semi-pro stars and other college material now stationed at the camp.

Factory Men Defeat Pump Team 7-1 As Jim's Thrash Paxsons In Slugfest, 7-4

Mullins pushed themselves one step closer to third round honors yesterday at Centennial park by slashing out a 7-1 victory over Demings by downing Paxsons 7-4 in the other Class A softball fray.

The win advances Mullins to a second place tie with the Recreation and gives them a golden opportunity to get into third round honors by nipping the Salem China Thursday night. Should Mullins come out on top Thursday, three teams—Recreation, China and Mullins—will be tied for first and a round playoff will be necessary.

The game yesterday marked the third loss of the round for the Demings crew and was made possible by the three hit performance turned in by Mullins' Marty Pauline. Pauline has shown considerable improvement this round and is pitching low hit games right straight through.

The factory men picked up their first tally in the initial frame and added another in the fourth. The fifth inning was a big frame for Mullins as a grouping of hits by Baits, Catlos and Pridon and two Demings' errors pushed in five big runs.

Demings rallied mildly in their half of the fifth to score the one run and the next two innings went scoreless. Ken Brudery, Demings' hurler, gave up seven hits and his teammates made just two errors.

Mullins had a bad night in the field—six miscues—but came out on top nevertheless.

The second tussle of the day saw Dick Hahn, hurling for the Paxson team, give up 10 hits and two errors by his helpers tallied the seven runs. Jim's got off to an early lead in the second inning with three runs and picked up another in the third and three more in the sixth. Paxsons made three serious tries for a winning rally, scoring one in the second, another in the fourth and two in the fifth.

However, Ralph Hendricks, held the youngsters down in spite of nine errors by his assistants. Hendricks gave up five hits while on the sled for Jim's. The win moved Jim's into the first division for the first time since their entry into the league at the beginning of the second round. It was their fourth win of the year.
